Repro

Repro is a font family with seven different styles. The first style Repro 0.1 was designed as monolined grotesk font with the DNA of a monotype. With a minimum of detail and geometric principles it is the perfect font for my further type experiment. Repro 0.2 is the outline version of Repro 0.1.

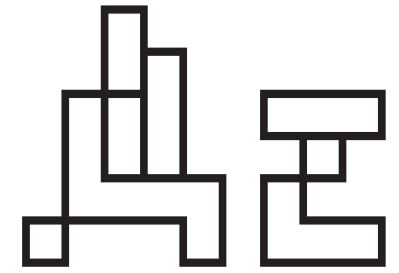

The other font styles are describe in the best way with the words : system and random. A reproduction of the first style. The letters are create by an algorithm, which shifts the outlines to a downer grid layer. In that case multiple letter shapes are created. A selection of the shapes is to be seen in the style Repro 0.3 until Repro 0.7. The higher the style the coarsely it gets. Until the last one becomes only a shape.

Gregor first woke up from his heavy drug-induced sleep in the evening twilight.
 He usually went to bed without any disturbance, for he felt himself sufficiently rested and tired, and although it appeared to him as if he hurriedly stepped out of his usual life, the door to the hall had already been closed. The light of the electric streetlights was here and there on the ceiling and on the higher parts of the furniture, but underneath everything lay a dark shadow. He pushed himself slowly away from the door, still groping with his hand for the light, which he now learned to feel for the first time, and he checked what was happening there. His left hand was suddenly long and unpleasantly stretched out, and he felt that he had been in his usual life. In addition, a small light had been extinguished and was now in the shadow of the swoon-like sleep in the evening twilight.

He would certainly have woken up soon afterwards without any disturbance, for he felt himself sufficiently rested and wide awake, although it appeared to him as if a hurried step and a cautious closing of the door to the hall had aroused him. The shine of the electric streetlights lay pale here and there on the ceiling and on the himself slowly toward the door, still gra-pling awkwardly with his pedals, which he now learned to value for the first time, to check what was happening there. His left side seemed once again long unpleasantly stretched out, and he really had to hobble on his two rows of legs. In addition, one small leg had been seriously wounded in the course of the morning incident (it was al-
